HOW TO USE THIS WORKSHEET

Complete the audience and quantity plan first. Shortlist products only after the distribution rule, budget band and must-arrive date are clear. Send the completed pages with your logo files when requesting a quotation.

1

Define the event before choosing products

The distribution plan is the working brief. It prevents premium items from being handed out too early and helps staff know what to offer after each type of interaction.

AUDIENCE TIER	PURPOSE	EXPECTED	PLANNED QTY	HANDOFF RULE
Walk-up traffic	Start a conversation			At aisle, counter or prize station
Scanned leads	Support a qualified exchange			After scan, demo or form completion
Booth staff	Equip the working team			Packed by person, role or shift
VIP / partner	Recognize priority meetings			By appointment or post-show shipment

Quantity checks

- ☐ Attendance estimate came from the organizer or event history.

☐ Staff quantity includes setup crew, speakers and replacements.

☐ A small reserve is planned for damage, loss and late additions.
- ☐ Giveaway quantities follow an actual handoff rule, not total attendance alone.

☐ VIP names and delivery addresses have an owner and deadline.

☐ Product MOQ will be checked before the item mix is approved.

WORKING RULE

Do not assign one giveaway to every attendee by default. Use a low-cost traffic item for reach, a useful item for qualified conversations and a limited premium item for meetings or follow-up.

2

Use a budget band to narrow the shortlist

These are product-only planning bands, not quotations. Quantity, material, imprint, setup, packaging, freight, duties and delivery timing can move the final cost.

UNDER $2

Reach and traffic

Stickers, wristbands, basic pens, badge accessories and simple lanyards at suitable quantities.

UNDER $5

Useful attendee items

Tote bags, plastic bottles, notebooks, charging cables, phone stands and selected caps.

UNDER $10

Qualified lead gifts

Upgraded drinkware, compact tech, travel pouches and practical two-item combinations.

UNDER $20

VIP and meeting value

Premium drinkware, better power banks, backpacks, tech organizers and compact gift sets.

Work backward from the must-arrive date

Dates below should include review time. A production-ready artwork approval is not the same as an initial design discussion.

Approval timeline

Brief and quantity split confirmed	Owner: _____ Due: _____
Shortlist, MOQ and branding reviewed	Owner: _____ Due: _____
Digital mockup approved	Owner: _____ Due: _____
Sample or pre-production proof approved	Owner: _____ Due: _____
Production complete and QC passed	Owner: _____ Due: _____
Cartons labeled and dispatch booked	Owner: _____ Due: _____
Delivery received and checked	Owner: _____ Due: _____

Artwork and product approval

- ☐ Vector logo supplied (AI, EPS, SVG or production-ready PDF).
- ☐ Imprint size, location and orientation approved on each item.
- ☐ Physical sample requirement agreed before production scheduling.
- ☐ Brand colors and acceptable substitutions documented.
- ☐ Names, QR codes, dates and campaign copy checked by the owner.
- ☐ Final proof approval recorded in writing.

Packing, venue and handoff

- ☐ Carton labels show event, booth number, owner and carton count.
- ☐ Venue receiving hours, dock rules and storage limits are confirmed.
- ☐ A reserve quantity is separated from daily booth stock.
- ☐ Staff kits are packed by person, size, role or shift where needed.
- ☐ Tracking, packing list and local receiving contact are shared.
- ☐ Post-show leftovers and return shipping have an owner.

READY TO REQUEST A QUOTE

Send the completed brief with your logo files.

Include the event city, must-arrive date, quantity by tier, preferred products and budget direction. We can review feasibility and prepare a coordinated digital mockup.
